The Bartholomew County Youth Services Center was established by the Bartholomew County Board of Commissioners. The Bartholomew County Youth Services Center is operated under the authority of the Bartholomew County Circuit Court which has jurisdiction over juvenile cases.

Our mission is to respond to the community's needs with a continuum of care, programming, services, and advocacy for minors under the jurisdiction of the Court in settings that are safe for both the community and youth.

We will treat each youth with respect and dignity, holding them to appropriate behavioral expectations through a system of rewards, and consequences that are applied in a fair, firm, and consistent manner which is conducive to their personal growth and development.

PROGRAMS AND SERVICES

The Bartholomew County Youth Services Center offers a variety of services for Bartholomew County children, youth and families. We are committed to making the community a safer place by reducing the risk of repetitive delinquent behavior. Each of the services offered by the Center has a different function however; they all share the same mission.

The Facility operates a three-level group-based program in Detention and Shelter. Day Treatment operates a four-level group-based program. Each level requires the completion of corresponding behavioral expectations ranging from below expectations to above expectations. Privileges increase from level to level to reward positive, appropriate, and cooperative efforts.

Any child taken into custody in Bartholomew County can be brought to the Youth Services Center for Detention or Shelter placement if necessary or be returned home. Other counties can also request access to Detention and Shelter services at the Center. In 2016, ten counties requested these services. Youth are referred for everything from the most serious delinquent offenses, to being a child in need of services (CHINS)

Brief descriptions of the services offered by the Center and 2016 referral statistics for each program are as follows: *

- Parental consent was obtained and on file at the Center for all photographs of youth used in this report.

DETENTION

Detention is a secure placement designed for youth awaiting the court process who are considered to be a danger to public safety, likely to re-offend, or flee before their court appearance. Youth may also be sentenced to serve time in secure detention for up to 90 days if they are under the age of seventeen and for 120 days if they are seventeen years of age or older.

Detention is designed to hold youth between the ages of 10 and 21. Detention programming focuses on teaching young people about choices and consequences. Youth placed in secure Detention receive six hours of educational instruction at the Center year round, five days per week.

In Indiana, the Department of Correction has the responsibility for providing standards for compliance for secure detention. In 2016 the Center received a score of 100% on the mandatory standards.

The age of a youth often has an impact on the way the Center's services are provided. The following table shows the age of the youth who received services in Detention in 2016.

The pie graph below reflects the percentage of male and female residents placed in detention in 2016. Over the years, there has been a heightened awareness that females are entering the criminal justice system at an increased rate. However, in 2016 the Center saw a decrease of 8 % in the number of females housed in detention.

The overrepresentation of minority youth, particularly in secure detention, has become a significant concern in this country, receiving attention at the local, state and national levels. In response to this concern, the graph below contains information regarding the percentage of populations by race served at the Center in Detention. The Center did see an 8% increase in the African American population and a 10 % increase in the Hispanic population as compared to 2015. The Center also saw a 15 % decrease in the Caucasian population and a 3 % decrease in the population identified as Other compared to 2015. The population identified as Mixed experienced no changes compared to 2015.

Reducing the number of youth returning to the Center’s programs remains a primary goal of the Center. The following graph reflects Bartholomew County youth by the number of times these juveniles have been held in secure Detention since the Center opened in 1992. No value judgment is made on the nature of the offense or the reason youth may or may not have been detained. Since its inception, the Center has tracked the rate of return for all youth served at the Center. Over the course of 24 years of operation, 59% of all youth served in Detention have not returned to the Center a second time. Over this same time period, the percentage of youth placed in Detention four or more times has decreased from 9 % to 2%.

It is difficult to compare Bartholomew County’s data to federal or state statistics, as most facilities do not keep records on rates of return to detention. This is due to the fact that detention is not typically used for the purpose of providing an intervention but rather as a facility for housing youth in order to ensure public safety and the youth’s appearance in court.

A non-return rate of fifty percent or more would indicate that the Center’s programs are having an immediate and positive effect on the youth being served by these programs. The Center strives to determine what changes can be made or added to its current programming to increase the number of youth who do not return to the Center, and more importantly, who do not continue to commit crimes in the community as either juveniles or adults.

The pie graphs below reflect the rate of return to detention for all youth served at the Center since its inception in 1992 and the rate of return to detention in 2016.

The Youth Service Center receives its referrals to Detention from primarily the Court and Local Law Enforcement agencies. The following charts represents the referral source for Detention youth in 2016:

BCSD- Bartholomew County Sheriff's Department
 CPD- Columbus Police Department
 EPD-Edinburg Police Department
 ISP- Indiana State Police

The average length of stay for a female youth in Detention in 2016 was 15 days and for males the average length of stay was 16 days in 2016. The average daily population for females was 1 and the average daily population for males was 3. The following chart demonstrates the Average Daily Population and Average Length of Stay by month for 2016:

SHELTER

Shelter is a non-secure, temporary, emergency placement designed to serve status offenders, abused and/or neglected juveniles, children of families in crisis and children and youth awaiting out-of-home placement. Shelter residents attend public school or receive their school work from their home county and remain active in community-based activities to the greatest extent possible. Shelter staff also provides the youth with social and life skill lessons such as budgeting and money management, daily living, proper hygiene and nutrition and pre-employment skills such as resume building and interview techniques.

The Indiana Family and Social Services Administration provide rules and licensing for shelter programs. The Center's license allows for up to ten youth between the ages of 10 and 18 to remain in shelter care for up to twenty days.

Shelter Staff

L. to R.: H Fugett, K. Blake, D. Thompson, B. Stewart, J. Grant, S. Lyle and A. Terry

In 2016 the Center provided Emergency Shelter Care services to 116 youth from Bartholomew County and ten other counties in Indiana. There were 75 youth denied admission to Shelter in 2016 due to presenting with either sexual maladaptive behavior, being actively suicidal or displaying severe aggression. The following graphs and charts are representative of the Center's referrals to Emergency Shelter Care in 2016. In 2016, there were a wide variety of reasons a youth may have been referred to Shelter. The majority of youth that were placed in shelter and present with a criminal charge have already spent some time in a secure setting; and they may be waiting in-home services to be initiated or awaiting placement at a residential facility.

The following chart represents the reasons and offenses that youth were referred to Shelter for in 2016:

Reason for Referral	Number of Referrals

The Indiana Department of Child Services, the Court, and Local Law Enforcement all referred youth to Emergency Shelter Care in 2016. The breakdown of each agency is as follows:

BCSD- Bartholomew County Sheriff's Department
 CPD- Columbus Police Department
 DCS- Department of Child Services

In 2016, Shelter Care services were requested for youth from Bartholomew, Brown, Clay, Dearborn, Decatur, Fayette, Floyd, Franklin, Hamilton, Jackson, Jennings, Johnson, Knox, Madison, Marion, Monroe, Ripley, Rush, Scott, Shelby, St. Joseph, Tipton, Vigo, Warrick and Wayne Counties in Indiana. The following graph is representative of the referrals received from each county. *

* Includes the seventy-five youth that were denied admission for safety reasons

Shelter is licensed to provide services to youth ages 10 through 18. The following table represents the ages of the youth served in 2016.

The Center's Shelter program includes both male and female youth. The following pie chart represents the percentage of males and females placed in Shelter in 2016.

The graph below contains information regarding the percentage of populations by race served at the Center in Shelter.

Even though the maximum length of stay in Shelter is 20 days, the Indiana Department of Child Services may grant an extension for a youth's stay in Shelter. In 2016, there were 28 extensions granted. The Average Length of Stay for females in Shelter in 2016 was 14 days and the Average Length of Stay for males was 13 days. The Center's Average Daily Population in Shelter for 2015 was 4. The following graph shows the Average Length of Stay and Average Daily Population by month for 2016.

DROP OFF PROGRAM

By local policy, the Center will accept any youth taken into custody by a law enforcement officer within Bartholomew County. Intake Officers are available 24 hours a day. The Intake Officers interview parents and other interested parties to determine if the youth should be placed in detention or shelter, or be released to a parent or guardian. Intake staff have available to them assessment tools such as the Indiana Youth Assessment Instrument (IYAS), the Detention Risk Assessment Instrument(DRAI), and the MAYSI-II mental health screening to assist in making a detain or release decision. In 2016, these officers completed 242 IYAS assessments, 215 Detention Risk Assessments Instruments, and 261 MAYSI-II mental health screenings. The Drop Off Program allows law enforcement officers to return to patrol immediately.

DAY TREATMENT

Day Treatment is a non-residential intensive program for males designed to reduce the likelihood of further delinquency by juvenile offenders. Program components include group counseling and role play, goal setting, life skills training, parenting education, supervised public school attendance and case management. Participants of this program reside at home and participate in programming at the Center six days per week. Successful program completion requires completion of assigned cognitive curricula, vocational education and training, and money management. Parents are required to attend parenting education and parent support group sessions. Aftercare services are provided for 30 days. Day Treatment has the capacity to serve up to ten local youth and their families at any given time.

At the beginning of 2016, there were four (4) participants in the Day Treatment Program who had been referred in 2015. In 2016, there were thirteen (13) youth referred to the Day Treatment Program. Two of the youth referred to the Day Treatment program were denied. Five (5) of those youth successfully completed the Program and six (6) of those youth were unsuccessfully discharged from the Program. Of the youth that were unsuccessfully discharged from the Day Treatment program, three (3) served time in secure detention, one (1) was sentenced to complete residential treatment, one(1) served time in Department of Correction, and one (1) was sentenced to residential placement. There are currently four (4) youth participating in the Day Treatment Program.

Day Treatment Staff

J. Velten (Juvenile House Arrest Officer)

Throughout 2016, youth in the Day Treatment Program received individualized education planning. Day Treatment staff worked collaboratively with local schools to monitor the youth's behavior while at school, track their attendance, and monitor their grades. While youth reported to Day Treatment, time was spent daily to ensure youth were completing school assignments and effectively studying.

During 2016, youth in the Day Treatment Program received life skills training by participating in a variety of cognitive based programming. The cognitive based programming included, but was not limited to: group; role plays; substance abuse prevention; vocational training; and financial literacy. Youth also participated in different cognitive based classes, including: "Thinking for a Change" and "Aggression Replacement Training." Each youth in the Program received training and feedback from Day Treatment staff to build and strengthen family and peer relationships. The Day Treatment Program also provided educational programming for parents through the Parent Project Program. Parent Project is a program that is utilized to improve school attendance and performance; along with reducing: family conflict and recidivism.

In 2016, Youth in the Day Treatment Program were regularly engaged with the community by volunteering and participating in community service. Day Treatment youth completed a total of 1,024 hours volunteering and community service hours while in the Program and worked with more than a dozen organizations within Bartholomew County. While engaged with the community, the youth were involved in many unique opportunities, such as the Columbus Area Arts Council's JCB Neighbor FEST, Empty Bowels, Cheer Fund, Rock the Park, Earth Day and Policing the Teen Brain.

JUVENILE HOUSE ARREST/ELECTRIC MONORITING

This service provides electronic monitoring and home detention services to youth referred by the Court. Youth referred to this program have committed offenses that do not necessarily require secure detention of the youth but warrant an increased level of supervision along with the provision of individual and family support services. These same services may be provided to referred youth that have returned to the community from a Department of Correction placement. Electronic monitoring services through this program are also provided to the youth in the Day Treatment program, youth who participate in the Community Transition Program and youth who are referred to Home Supervision and Electric Monitoring as an alternative to detention. Juvenile House Arrest and Electric Monitoring services are provided in collaboration with Community Corrections.

In 2016 there were eighty-three youth placed on Electric Monitoring. Of these eighty-three youth, 44 completed the program successfully. Thirty-nine of the youth were unsuccessful and received further sanctions from the Court. There were also sixteen youth placed on Home Supervision; thirteen of those youth successfully completed the program. Three of the youth that were placed on Home supervision were unsuccessful and received further sanctions from the Court.

TRANSITION PROGRAM

This service provides transition services to youth who are sentenced to secure detention for thirty days or more. Whenever a youth is taken from his/her community for a period of time, there is a loss of connect with the community, the school, etc... Rather than just release the youth to his/her home without the benefit of resources and support, the Bartholomew County Youth Services Center offers transition services to these youth. These services include the Juvenile House Arrest Officer in the home at least three days a week, a mentor, and the Center's Education Liaison to assist the youth's transition back into the school system. The youth's parents, as well as the youth's probation officer, are also involved in the youth's transition program. In 2016 there were ten youth sentenced to Detention. Two of these youth were sentenced for 30 days or less and were not eligible for transition services. There was one youth that wished to participate in transition services in 2016.

JUVENILE WORK CREW

This service gives the court and probation an option as a graduated sanction, which may keep the youth out of secure detention or an extended probation term.

Work Crew consists of youth who have been ordered by the court or Court Services to perform community service hours. The work crew does community projects for various agencies, non-profit groups, churches, schools, senior citizens or persons with disabilities. Youth learn work ethics and a variety of skills while serving in the community.

In 2016, the Juvenile Work Crew program had another successful year. The youth assigned to the Juvenile Work Crew program helped clean up at the Bartholomew County 4-H fairgrounds, worked for nonprofit organizations such as Utopia Wildlife Rehabilitation Center, cleaned up overgrown county cemeteries, worked for Goodwill, and cleaned up many of the public parks and people trails around the community. The participants were also able to successfully take 326 bags of trash off the sides of the roads, and with the help of the Bartholomew County Sheriff's Department were able to have a large amount of drug paraphernalia removed from roadsides throughout the community. There were a total of 128 participants assigned to the Juvenile Work Crew program in 2016 which provided a total of 1,024 hours of work within the community. Shown below are before and after pictures of the participants work at St. John's Lutheran Union Cemetery.

AFTER

I would like to thank Brad Barnes, Anita Biehle, and Angie Purvis as well as the Bartholomew County Sheriff's Department, Bartholomew County Dispatch, the Bartholomew County Youth Service Center, and Bartholomew County Juvenile Probation for all their help and support throughout 2016. I hope to have another successful year in 2017.

COGNITIVE BEHAVIORAL PROGRAMS

The Center has several staff that are trained to facilitate various evidenced-based cognitive programs such as Thinking For a Change, Aggression Replacement Training, Girl's Moving On, and Parent Project®. Families can be referred to one or more of these programs by the Bartholomew County Probation Department, Bartholomew County Circuit Court, or Bartholomew County Department of Child Services. In 2016, staff at the Center provided 209.5 hours of cognitive instruction to Bartholomew County Youth and their families.

There were 16 youth that successfully completed Thinking for a Change, a cognitive curriculum that incorporates components that have been proven to be a successful tool for reducing the recidivism rate for criminal behavior. The three components are Cognitive Self-Change, Social Skills and Problem Solving. Cognitive Self-Change teaches a concrete process for self-reflection aimed at uncovering antisocial thoughts, attitudes and beliefs. Social Skill instructions prepare the group members to engage in pro-social interactions based on self-understanding and consideration of the impact their actions have on others. Problem Solving Skills integrates the two interventions to provide an explicit step-by-step process to address challenging real-life situations.

There were 9 youth that successfully completed Aggression Replacement Training®, a cognitive behavioral intervention program to help children and adolescents improve social skill competence and moral reasoning, better manage anger, and reduce aggressive behavior.

There were 3 youth that successfully completed Girls Moving On, a comprehensive program that uses complimentary approaches to help female youth engage in mutually supportive, empathic, and healthy relationships.

There were 13 parents that successfully completed Parent Project®, a curriculum that focuses on the most destructive of adolescent behavior. The curriculum address issues such as arguing and family conflict, poor school performance, truancy and dropouts, media influences, early teen sexuality, teen drug use, teen gangs, teen violence, bullying and runaways.

MEDICAL AND MENTAL HEALTH SERVICES

Residents in Shelter and Detention are seen by the Center’s nurse within 48 hours of admission. The nurse is on call 24/7 for any emergencies or questions that staff may have pertaining to a resident’s health. The youth are seen by the County’s nurse practitioner within one week of their admission to Shelter and Detention The nurse practitioner is also on call 24/7 for any questions that the nurse may have regarding a resident’s health.

N. Miller (Nurse) & Brenda Korte (Nurse Practitioner)

Counselor
B. Maass

The residents are also seen by the Center’s counselor upon admission. A Child and Adolescent Needs and Strengths (CANS) assessment is completed on each shelter youth. Youth may also request to speak to the counselor throughout their stay in shelter or detention if they wish to do so. The counselor is on call 24/7 for any mental health questions or crises that may occur. If deemed necessary, a MAYSI-II mental health screening may be utilized by the Intake Officers upon admission to the Center.

FOOD SERVICE

The Food Service Department of the Center is comprised of a Head Cook and a Full-Time Cook that are responsible for three meals a day that are nutritionally adequate, palatable, and attractive, and that are produced under sanitary conditions at a reasonable cost. Our Head Cook, who is experienced in food service management, supervises the food service operations. In 2016, the Food Service Department at the Center prepared 16,284 meals. The Department of Education reimburses the county for breakfast and lunch meals through the National School Lunch Program.

JUVENILE DETENTION ALTERNATIVE INITIATIVE (JDAI)

In 2016, Bartholomew County continued our process of Juvenile Detention Alternatives Initiative (JDAI). The goals of JDAI are to detain the right youth for the right reason while maintaining community safety. In the last year, we were able to implement our Detention Risk Assessment Instrument (DRAI) to help us objectively screen youth to determine which youth can be safely supervised in the community and which should be detained. Using the DRAI as a guide, the Intake Officers are able to release a youth to an appropriate alternative which provides supervision and program.

With the implementation of the DRAI, Bartholomew County was able to implement new alternatives as an option to release youth to. Evening Reporting Center and Home Supervision were added to our list of alternatives that were already in place which included Electronic Monitoring and Emergency Shelter Care. In 2016, 7 youth were released to the Evening Reporting, 13 youth were released to Home Supervision, 54 youth were released to Electronic Monitoring, and 60 youth were released to Emergency Shelter Care.

The Data Work Group continued to meet throughout 2016. The Data Work Group helped collect objective, timely data that helped us determine if we are placing the right youth, in the right place, for the right reason, for the right amount of time. Often times this data was distributed to other work groups, such as Admissions/Screening Work Group and Alternatives to Detention Work Group, to help monitor DRAI outcomes and review alternatives.

As we look to 2017, the Alternatives to Detention Work Group will be tasked with reviewing the current alternatives that are in place. They will also monitor outcomes and identify ways to improve alternatives based on data and evidenced based practices. As we move forward in our JDAI process, Bartholomew County will take a closer look at case processing regarding the juvenile justices system. Bartholomew County will participate in a case processing pilot. This study will help us to look more closely at any case processing issues in our juvenile justice system while receiving additional support from the State JDAI team. We will also continue to develop a framework of alternatives which will be available to the Intake Officers when a youth is remanded into their custody. We are excited to continue to move forward in our JDAI process and to provide alternatives to reduce the number of youth who are being securely detained while maintaining public safety.

5 YEAR COMPARISONS- CENSUS AND AVERAGE LENGTH OF STAY

Census at the Center is determined by looking at bed utilization and the average length of stay of each youth. Shelter youth are limited by license to a maximum stay of 20 days while Detention has no such licensing limitation. The length of stay for detention youth prior to sentencing depends upon the length of time required for them to be processed through the juvenile justice system. However, once sentenced, youth in Detention are limited to a maximum sentence of 90 days for youth under 17 and 120 days for youth 17 and older. Day Treatment is designed in such a way that a youth will typically need to spend a minimum of 4 months in the program.

PERSONNEL

The Center hired 11 new employees in 2016. Of the eleven staff hired in 2016, seven (7) of those remain at the Center in some capacity.

Relief Youth Care Workers at the Center cover for employees on sick, vacation, and personal leave and for staff involved in training. Relief staff constitutes a substantial savings compared to paying full-time staff overtime for this coverage. Part-time Youth Care Workers are also essential staff at the Center but are very difficult to retain. They are typically employees who are working for the Center only while they are in engaged in college studies or seeking full-time employment. However, when full-time positions open at the Center, part-time employees and relief staff have the first option to apply and are often hired for these positions.

FROM THE DIRECTOR

Looking back on 2016, the Center faced some challenges and experienced many successes and whether it be a bad day or a good day for the Center's staff, their display of teamwork, their dedication and genuine care and concern for the youth we serve continued to persevere and the Youth Services Center staff went right on doing what we do best - making the community as safer place by reducing the risk of repetitive delinquent behavior.

In 2016, the Center staff worked together to ensure we remained financially responsible and by doing so the Center was able to return 4 % of its allotted budget to county general funds. The Center did see a 20% increase in referrals and a 41 % increase in per diems.

There are 28 full-time employees and 4 part-time employees at the Center. 50% of those full-time employees have been employed at the Center for 5 years or longer. There continues to be quite a bit of an age range amongst the staff at the Center. This only continues to add to the uniqueness and diversity of their talents regardless of what capacity they serve in at the Center.

In 2014, Bartholomew County began its journey in taking part of the Juvenile Detention Alternatives Initiative that is sweeping the nation. In 2015, several of the Center's staff were involved in committees that worked on developing the Detention Risk Assessment Instrument (DRAI) and exploring alternatives to detention. In 2016, the Center began its Evening Reporting Center as an alternative to detention as well as placing youth on Home Supervision and using Electric Monitoring as alternatives to detention

As the Youth Services Center will be embarking upon its 25th year, the Center 's staff continue to be excited to be a part of bringing Bartholomew County to the front lines when it comes to providing quality services and programs for the youth and their families throughout the county. We look forward to working with Bartholomew County's new Circuit Court Judge and County Council Members as well continuing our collaborations with our old friends in the hopes that we can continue to provide quality services for the youth and families that we serve.
